This routine procedure is performed on a semi annual basis, in an effort to maintain high water quality standard at the delivery points in your home or business.

Consumers may experience the following temporary effects of the flushing:

- Fluctuation in pressure.
- Discoloration of the water.

This does not present a health hazard.

Laundry should not be washed during this time.

In the event of discoloration, water should be flushed at each fixture in the building until a clear water flow is achieved.

If you have any questions, please contact Inframark at (845)-228-0460.
